This month's book is... Dying to Be Me
by Anita Moorjani

(Bring a picnic supper if you wish to partake while we chat)

All are welcome, so come and enjoy the discussion.
It can be wonderful and insightful to hear what inspiration and ideas others received from reading the same book.

"Academics of the right sort are requisite. Observation, invention, study, and original thought are expansive and should promote the growth of mortal mind out of itself, out of all that is mortal."
